OVERALL EFFECTIVENESS OF THE SCHOOL	1
How effective the school is in providing Christian Education
Holy Spirit Catholic and Church of England Primary school is outstanding in providing a Christian education for its pupils. A very effective partnership exists between the governors, parish representatives and the senior management team, ably lead by the recently appointed Headteacher. All the staff are totally committed to raising the standards at the school but always with the Christian mission at the heart of all they do. Pupils make good and sometimes outstanding progress. They identify and can articulate the school's Christian mission and show a high degree of concern for justice for all. The school is highly regarded and respected by the parents and the parishes its serves. They value its support for the work it does in the community and for support it offers in the development of the faith life of its two faith traditions. What the school could do to improve further <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Continue to develop the liturgical and Eucharistic celebrations of the two traditions.</li> <li>• Continue to develop the R.E. scheme of work and resources to support the appropriate themes.</li> <li>• Appoint a new Deputy Headteacher to complement the work of the Headteacher.</li> </ul>

PUPILS	2
How good outcomes are for pupils, taking account of variations between different groups
Pupils make good (and some outstanding) progress from a very low baseline on entry to the Foundation Stage. They quickly become keen and enthusiastic learners, enjoying the themed and creative approach to their Religious Education lessons. During the inspection all classes were observed teaching Religious Education The children were very responsive and reflective and their behaviour was outstanding. All classes were exploring Reconciliation through a themed topic on Building Bridges. They were able to relate well to the times in their own lives when they needed to be reconciled to each other and, as Christians, to God. From Foundation Stage to Year 6, the children were able to use appropriate religious language associated with this topic. They demonstrated a deep concern for each other and for all within and beyond their community. The children had a good understanding of scriptural passages related to the reconciliation theme and this was particularly evident when children in one class were exploring the nature of friendship, love and forgiveness and how these themes were explored in the story of the Prodigal Son. All the children showed a great ability to be reflective and valued the spiritual and prayerful moments in their lessons and Acts of Collective Worship. They were very aware of and showed a deep respect for each other's different Christian traditions. At the same time they were able to deepen their own faith backgrounds alongside each other. The children's response to Collective Acts of Worship is outstanding. They play an active role in the wide and varied liturgical provision. These reflect the seasons of the Church's year and the traditions of both the Anglican and Catholic communities. They appreciate the variety of approaches that the adults offer during worship. They know traditional prayers and are confident in leading their own celebrations. During the inspection, children very effectively used drama to emphasise the need to build bridges and forgive each other when things go wrong. They are acutely aware of the need to seek justice for all, within and beyond their communities. The children are engaged in a number of local community projects such as the development of allotments for community use within their school grounds. They are also involved with wider global issues through CAFOD, UNICEF and CHRISTIAN AID. Despite the many challenges the children face in their own community they are actively involved in supporting, through their own fund raising efforts, children in Uganda. The children are able to articulate their own Christian ideals and responsibility to "make the world a better place."

PROVISION	1
How effective the provision is for Christian Education
The provision for Christian Education at Holy Spirit is outstanding. Good teaching, planning and assessment together with the outstanding support for learners with particular needs ensures that all children make at least good and some outstanding progress. During the inspection, all teaching was deemed to be at least good in Religious Education. There was good questioning of the children to develop their thinking and understanding of the nature of forgiveness and, through differentiated and challenging activities children were encouraged to take their learning further. One outstanding feature of the provision at Holy Spirit is the high degree of enjoyment the children have in their Religious Education lessons. This helps to keep the children motivated and develop their concentration and application during lessons. The marking and dialogue of teachers, other adults and the children is of a very high quality. The children feel extremely valued by all the staff and this reflects the quality of their learning in Religious Education. Careful thought has been given to the development of the “Here I Am” scheme of work to reflect the requirements of both Anglican and Catholic dioceses. Staff and governors are continually looking at ways in which this scheme can be further developed to meet the needs of both communities. The school has successfully introduced the “Kin Club” which allows children from the Anglican and Catholic parishes to explore more fully their own faith traditions, especially in relation to preparation for the first sacraments. ICT and other resources are effectively used to support teaching and learning in Religious Education through the school and the staff are looking at ways to develop these resources to further enhance provision. An area of the school has been developed as “The Cave” which allows children to find a quiet prayerful place and is a refuge for the difficulties that some of the children experience. All staff are fully committed to their own faith development through in-service training opportunities and in-house training and this in turn ensures the high status of provision for Religious Education through the school. Themes for Collective Acts of Worship are carefully chosen to reflect the Christian mission and values of the school and to ensure that both traditions are represented through-out the year.

LEADERS AND MANAGERS	1
How effective leaders and managers are in developing the Christian Life of the school
Leadership and management at Holy Spirit in developing the Christian life of the school is outstanding. The recently retired Headteacher, the newly appointed Headteacher, (the former Deputy Headteacher), together with a very effective governing body, have worked hard to ensure the obvious success of this joint faith school. A measure of this success is the increasing popularity of the school in the community it serves. Both Anglican and Catholic parishes have seen this reflected in their communities and parents from both these traditions speak very highly of all the staff and governors who have guided the school over recent years. They value and appreciate the Christian ethos of the school, the high quality of care for the children and the commitment of staff and governors to promote its spiritual life. Governors from both Christian traditions are represented on the governing body and there are two Religious Education link governors to reflect this which ensures a strong Christian influence in decision making. They work very closely with school to support its Christian traditions. The parish priest from the Catholic Parish of Our Lady’s and the vicar of the Anglican Parish of St. Chad’s meet regularly with the senior management team. This strong partnership is at the heart of the success of this joint faith school. The governors know their school communities well and this allows them to be very effective in the challenge and support they are able to offer. Areas for development are very effectively evaluated and targets for improvement clearly planned.

The governors work hard to ensure the senior management team continues to promote the Christian values of the school's foundation. A much respected retired Headteacher has successfully been replaced with the appointment of the deputy as the new Headteacher. Although new to her post, she has the respect of all within her community and is already successfully bringing her vision to the school. Governors are carefully planning the appointment of a new deputy to complement her role.

Partnerships to support the children at all levels are outstanding. This is recognised by the high regard the school is held in by the local authority and is also recognised in their recent Ofsted report.

Leaders and managers are key figures in the community, working with parish communities and parents.

They work hard to provide playgroup facilities and are a driving force in community based projects such as the use of the school grounds and the involvement of youth offending groups.

Travellers groups feel particularly welcomed and trust the school to support them with their particular needs. The school offers these parents specific support so that they can become more involved in the education process.

All parents were particularly appreciative of the high quality of welcome the school offers and the Christian ethos that underpins it. Community cohesion is outstanding.
